

Can you match the Latin word to its English meaning? I've done one to show you how.

- |           |                 |
|-----------|-----------------|
| curare    | happily         |
| dare      | well            |
| bene      | angrily         |
| male      | easily          |
| optime    | badly           |
| laete     | bravely         |
| irate     | to take care of |
| celeriter | very well       |
| fortiter  | to give         |
| facile    | quickly         |

The English words below all have Latin roots. Can you connect the word to its meaning? I've done the first one to show you.

- |                   |                                                       |
|-------------------|-------------------------------------------------------|
| fortitude  | to increase speed                                     |
| optimist   | something that's good or useful                       |
| accelerate | angry                                                 |
| benefit    | bravery                                               |
| irate      | a person who thinks things will turn out for the best |

Draw a circle around the correct translations for these Latin verbs. I've done one to get you started.

- |                     |                          |    |                    |
|---------------------|--------------------------|----|--------------------|
| do           | I give            | or | you give           |
| curant       | they sing                | or | they take care of  |
| videmus      | we laugh                 | or | we see             |
| bene cantant | they sing well           | or | I sing well        |
| datis        | you give                 | or | y'all give         |
| male laboras | you work badly           | or | you see badly      |
| laete ridet  | he/she/it laughs happily | or | they laugh happily |

Is the word underlined in the sentence a verb or an adverb?

	verb	adverb
I can tie my shoelaces easily .	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
Jay bought an ice cream from the van.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
If you play well in this match, we may get to the finals.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
Unluckily for us, we couldn't find our PE kit.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>