

Three Latin verbs that don't use 'v' in the simple past tense

Can you write the correct present tense Latin verb by its simple past tense equivalent (you'll find these in the box on the right) and then translate both of them? The first one has been done to show you how. Use your mini dictionaries to help if you need to.

simple past

1. dixi

translation: I said

2. risi

I laughed

3. consumpsi

I consumed

4. cucurri

I ran

5. duxi

I led/took

6. feci

I did/made

7. scripsi

I wrote

8. steti

I stood

9. dedi

I gave

10. sensi

I felt

11. ascendi

I went up

12. posui

I put/placed

13. tacui

I was quiet

present

Latin: dico

translation: I say

Latin: rideo

translation: I laugh

Latin: consumo

translation: I consume

Latin: curro

translation: I run

Latin: duco

translation: I lead/take

Latin: facio

translation: I do/make

Latin: scribo

translation: I write

Latin: sto

translation: I stand

Latin: do

translation: I give

Latin: sentio

translation: I feel

Latin: ascendo

translation: I go up

Latin: pono

translation: I put/place

Latin: taceo

translation: I am quiet

dico