

Can you match the picture up with the correct Latin word and say what it means in English? I've done one to show you how.

centum	et	ita vero	mille	tres	minime
hundred	and	yes	thousand	three	no

Which is the right Latin word to complete the sentence? Draw a circle around it. I've translated the Latin to help you, and I've done the first sentence to show you how.

quattuor porci in villa sunt est.
Four pigs are in the house.

lucundus sum es.
I am lucundus.

equi estis sumus et laete ridemus.
We are horses and we are laughing happily .

magae es estis et hortos curatis.
You are witches and you look after the gardens.

regina est sunt et bene cantat.
She is the queen and she sings well.

Put these Latin number words in order, lowest first and then think of an English word or words that comes from the Latin. I've done the first one to help you out.

	quattuor	octo	centum	novem
duo	decem	unus	sex	tres
unus		unique, unicycle
duo		duel, dual
tres		treble, trio
quattuor		quarter, quadrilateral
quinque		quintet, quintuplets
sex		sextuplets
septem		September
octo		October, octopus, octagon
novem		November
decem		December, decimal, decagon, deciliter
centum		century, centipede, cent, per cent

Can you translate these sentences containing a form of the verb 'esse'? I've done one to show you how.

equus est.

It is a horse.

tres porci sunt.

They are three pigs.

medici sumus et feminas curamus.

We are doctors and we look after women.

stellae estis.

Y'all are stars.

magus sum? minime!

I'm a wizard? No!

